During the last three years I've been involved in a project concerning the design and synthesis of carbohydrates both in organic solvents and in water. I have also been involved with towards a series of monosaccharidic glycosides of biological interest, Recently, ...measurements have shown that a new kind of receptor is able to interact interaction. In order to confirm these data using NMR as independent technique, and to gain a better insight of the structural features of the receptor complexes solution, I would be very interested in carrying out such investigation in the host institute, in the research group of, who is a well-known authority in the field of A fellowship in this group will give me the opportunity to learn These methods provide information on In addition, it will be very useful for my research to gain a deeper experience on
